

Collaborators

And our purpose...

Working on a worldwide volume has enabled our company to bring the finest materials from the best of organizations, houses, and companies as to ensure premium quality to our clients. In choosing different techniques and approaches to design and modeling, not only do we keep up with the world, but we innovate and set new standards.
-Paul Regler (CEO of Formvision)

All planning regarding urbanistic and architectural matters is executed by Formvision's head architect Milica Gruban and our team in cooperation with the team of María Rosa Cervera Sardá. Rosa Cervera is globally known as a pioneer of bionic architecture on which she wrote and published several works. She designed the biggest vertical city in the world, located in Shanghai. Our partnership is based on a trinity of minds. Milica was the one bringing fresh ideas to the table, always one step ahead of the world. Rosa, with all her experience and knowledge of architectural design, recognized Milica's potential and ambitions. Paul puts forward automotive features into the concept of futurism their works convey.

By playing with the relations of shadows and light, forms and lines created by panels, different energies can be created influencing one's experience. By applying Eastern culture's shoji paper screens as references, we adorn the facades and rooms of our buildings with intricate patterns. Incorporating Western-style architectural principles, we decided to make detachable panels creating custom-made shapes, enabling our client's wishes to be on the forefront. For the execution of these panels, we cooperate with the Fielitz company, which with their many years of experience and expertise guarantees top-quality solutions. It is said that great minds think alike and we strive for both innovation and sustainability with a note of luxury.

We're currently working on a new series of kitchens in collaboration with Covet Group and are becoming a part of their team, cooperating with over five hundred connections globally. The companies of Luxury Sound, Formvision, and the Covet Group plan on forming an alliance merging our best designers, and working in a unity of minds, all the elements connecting. We plan on launching sets of kitchens and speakers according to all of covet's desired furniture lines. Their jewelry-like furniture must be placed in well-defined, thought-out architectural spaces with additional features, which we as collaborators can offer. This way our customers can get a full package deal right away, making the selection process easier and providing the best interior design solutions. Being a part of a creative, worldwide organization with a revolutionary attitude allows us to provide our customers with the most prestigious materials in minimal timing and maximum satisfaction.

By incorporating Coleccion Alexandra furniture and decorative accessories into our projects, we keep in touch with Spain's style ideas, giving our designs a sense of avant-garde appearance. Working on a global level with both Portuguese and Spanish luxury furniture houses allows us to have a wider variety of products and form bonds between international companies, providing our customers the best of both worlds.

We're also launching a new set of speakers with Luxury Sound, which, this year, won the award for the best luxury speakers worldwide. The speakers will be a part of the Symphony collection, fitting perfectly with the rest of the furniture and blending in harmoniously.

Mo Projects is a company promising quality with no compromise, which is exactly why our principles align and how we were able to form a partnership with yet another luxury company. The exceptional reputation of their precision and performance in the interior is justified in the products of their work and our teams always manage to create sights for sore eyes working together.

-written by Nina Gruban